About

Mostafa Azzam is the founder and CEO of TALENT Training & Consulting, a UAE training company. He helps business leaders and HR teams turn AI into better decisions, and into processes that change how work actually gets done. He is the author of The Algorithmic Leader and AI and the Future of Work, Adjunct Faculty at the American University in Cairo, and a Workshop Director for Informa Connect Academy, SHRM, HCI, Franklin Covey and Leoron, among others. A much sought-after motivational speaker, he builds his talks on the programs he designs and leads with organizations across the GCC and APAC.

Signature talks

1. A Prompt Is Not a Workflow
   Why personal AI gains stall before they reach the business, and the moves that turn experiments into governed workflows.
2. The Multiplier: What AI Does to the Capability You Already Have
   AI multiplies what an organization already has. How to check capability, capacity and competence before you scale it.
3. Agents at Work: Where AI Saves Time, and Where a Human Must Decide
   From assistant to agent: where agents save real time, and the decisions leaders make before an agent acts.
4. Digital Transformation Is a Leadership Moment
   Most digital transformations stall on people, not technology. What leaders must redesign for the investment to pay off.
5. When Competence No Longer Depends on Experience
   What replaces experience as the sign of competence, and what it means for hiring, development and GCC talent pipelines.
6. Leading When Intelligence Is Easy to Fake
   When polish no longer proves thinking: judgment, verification and trust as the leadership skills that now matter more.
